Tune in to this webinar to learn about hazards you should consider in your emergency preparedness plan and best practices for resilient risk mitigation. The webinar will cover the remaining outlook for the 2024 Hurricane season. Organizations will not be affected in the same way by a natural disaster. It's critical to understand the specific risks your municipality faces, as well as the impacts these hazards can have on infrastructure, employee safety, and business continuity.

ABOUT THE PRESENTER- ROB SARNO

Rob is a business continuity expert and Senior Account Manager at Agility Recovery. With over a decade of professional experience helping organizations realize their continuity and risk goals, Rob combines his expertise in emergency preparedness and business continuity to advise clients on their resilience, risk, and recovery needs while helping them implement critical risk management solutions. A native New Englander, Rob is a die-hard Boston sports fan. He holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Oregon and lives in Colorado with his wife, children, and seven pets, including dogs, cats, and a horse. During the fall, he can often be found on any given Sunday on his couch, yelling at his TV.
